Trainer Profile – Ram Prakash

Profile

- Working in the area of machine learning and AI for more than a decade now.
- B.Tech degree in CS & Engg from IIT Madras (2000).
- A technology entrepreneur since 2000, with a prolific record in applying machine learning to real world problems.
- Created the first machine learning based predictive transliteration for Indian languages (www.quillpad.in).
- Quillpad has been credited to have played an influential role in boosting the Indian language usage online.
- Listed among top 20 innovators by MIT TR35 Awards in the year 2010.
- Designed and built a multilingual Indic OCR technology that applies the advances in deep learning to achieve state-of-the-art results.
- Co-founded a startup where we are applying deep vision models to understand aesthetic aspects of fashion apparel.
- Areas of research include designing models for vision and NLP problems.